DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-88 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-55, in the reply filed on July 26, 2006 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the claims are related to one another. This is not found persuasive because each of the claims in Groups I to V have found a separate status in the classification system and art of that system which puts a burden on the examiner to search all of the different inventions of an application. Further, albeit Inventions I-V are directed to related methods. However, the related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have a materially different design and mode of operation and function or effect since they include different ingredients and forms of application as well as the topical application, thereof; the groups encompass a different scope for carrying out the method of a particular group, and the specific technical features of each group do not provide an. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Art Unit: 1651

Claims 56-88 are hereby withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention(s), there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on July 26, 2006.

Specification

The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: To provide support in the specification at the appropriate place for the effective amount of omentum between 1% and 100% as recited in claim 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Catsimpoolas et al (US 4767746).

Claims are drawn to method of treating mammals comprising the step of topically applying to a needed epithelial area of a mammala composition comprising omentum.

Art Unit: 1651

Catsimpoalas et al teach mammalian omentum useful in the topical treatment of mammalian epithelial sites. Note column 3, lines 20-25 and column 17, lines 44-56 and 66, wherein any site can be treated.

The claims are identical to the cited disclosure, and are therefore, considered to be anticipated by the teachings therein. The identical mammalian omentum is taught to be topically applied to any site and to treat the whole body of an organism and all of its organs and extremities is inherent to the teachings of the reference since it is disclosed to have broad spectrum of applicability and disclosed to be useful in all skin-care products to promote healing effect in all epithelial sites of a mammal.

All claims fail to be patentably distinguishable over the state of the art discussed above and cited on the enclosed PTO-892 and/or PTO-1449. Therefore, the claims are properly rejected.

The remaining references listed on the enclosed PTO-892 and/or PTO-1449 are cited to further show the state of the art.

No claims are allowed.
